Bridgeway House Presents Dennis Debbaudt Speaking on Autism Risk & Safety Management

Eugene, Ore. – Bridgeway House is hosting Dennis Debbaudt at Wesley United Methodist Church at 1385 Oakway Road in Eugene at 7pm on Thursday, February 12, 2015. Dennis will speak about Autism Risk Management. Parents and community members are encouraged to attend this wonderful talk designed to identify issues of risk and provide strategies to help manage autism risks at home, school, and in the community.

“We are delighted to bring Dennis to Eugene,” said Patricia Wigney, Executive Director of Bridgeway House. “Dennis will share vital information about managing risk in autism during this important talk for parents and community members.”

Dennis Debbaudt is the leading global voice on autism training for law enforcement and emergency responders. He is the proud father of Brad, a young man who has autism. A professional investigator and law enforcement trainer, Dennis has authored or co-authored over 30 articles and books since 1993. He is known for his humor and insight, and is one of most sought-after speakers in the autism community.

Because they know the importance of this information, Bridgeway House is also providing local first responders with a complimentary training session by Dennis on Thursday, February 12.

About Bridgeway House

Bridgeway House (www.bridgewayhouse.org) is a nonprofit organization that was founded in 2002 to offer developmental therapies, enrichment courses, and support to children and families of all income levels with autism and related disabilities. Bridgeway House’s therapeutic programs are designed to help this diverse and ever-increasing group of children meet the challenges of autism and help their families with the emotional, financial, and social challenges they face. Services include therapies, social skills groups, summer camps, parent skills groups, family social events, an annual theatre production, and a private school for children with autism. Bridgeway House offers scholarships for all their programs so they are affordable to families from all walks of life.
